

ALEASHA CAMPBELL

Aleasha was born in Scottsdale, Arizona where she began dancing at age 3. She started dancing competitively at age 7 in ballet, jazz, tap, hip-hop, and lyrical. She performed and competed with the national-winning Dance Motion Company at Bender Performing Arts until she graduated from high school. She also participated in and choreographed for performance show choir and competitive cheer.

Aleasha continued her dance training at Brigham Young University and graduated with a Bachelor's degree in Elementary Education. During this time, she taught as a studio dance instructor and then as a first grade teacher. She is excited to join the faculty at Elevate and once again practice two of her passions—education and dance.
